COUNTY BOARD ENDORSES BRIDGE

DUMBARTON PROJECT RECEIVES APPROVAL OF COUNTY BOARD; SURVEYOR ORDERED TO MAKE REPORT ON BIG PROJECT.

In spite of the confusion and excitement at the county court house incidental on the opening of the Hightower trial and the large number of people attending it, the supervisors met Monday.

The outstanding event of the meeting was the endorsement by the board of a resolution endorsing the Dumbarton bridge project and ordering the county surveyor to inspect the proposed location and report on the most feasible type of bridge. The resolution also embodied a clause in which it was stated that the board members and the county surveyor would appear before the United States Board of Engineers, meeting in San Francisco, to consider ways of bridging the bay and present their plans for the Dumbarton bridge and advocate its construction.

One of the noteworthy matters that came up was an application for the supervisors to pass a resolution endorsing the big speedway project at San Carlos. This application embodied the term "Greater San Francisco," and this term proved far from meeting the approval of the board. As San Carlos is situated about midway of San Mateo county, why the speedway should be sponsored in the name of "Greater San Francisco" did not appear, and action on the resolution was held over for two weeks.

A communication from the San Diego board of supervisors asked the local board to pass a resolution calling on Governor Stephens to call a special session of the legislature to pass upon the limiting of the speed, weight, width of tires, taxing, etc., of trucks used upon the state highway. This was laid over to the meeting of October 17th.

A request from S. D. Olofsson of Halfmoon Bay for the graveling of the Venice boulevard was referred to Supervisor Francis.

The contract for the construction of a road protection wall on the Colma to Halfmoon Bay road was awarded to A. Matton of San Bruno, his being the only bid for the work received. The bid was for about $600.

Plans for the opening of Colma creek, with the idea of caring for storm water which has flooded the highway during the winter time, were submitted by County Surveyor George A. Kneese and accepted. Bids for the work were ordered to be advertised for, to be opened November 7th.

Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey asked the appointment of a special traffic officer for duty on the Bay Shore road next week, and the request was granted.

A report from County Treasurer P. P. Chamberlain, showing $673,173.83 in the treasury, was read and filed, as were reports from the county recorder, assessor, sheriff, jailer, tax collector, health officer, veterinarian, and horticultural commissioner.

Chairman Thompson announced that the sum of $24,219.51 had been received from the motor vehicle department, which was ordered added to the $2286.27 unapportioned to the good roads fund, and divided among the five road districts of the county, each receiving the sum of $5301.15.

The board will meet again at 10 a. m. Monday, October 10th.

ON SUBJECT, "THE HOME TOWN" CONGREGATION HEARS TALK

A good-sized congregation greeted the Rev. E. H. Molony at Grace Episcopal Church last Sunday, his subject having been announced as "The Home Town." Mr. Molony read as the basis of his sermon the written expressions of ten or more citizens of the town as to what this city needs most for its improvement.

Miss Lena Crenna of Concord is spending the week at the home of her sister, Mrs. A. Mutti.

ENTHUSIASTIC BUREAU MEETING IN SO. S. F.

City Hall Crowded as Definite Steps Are Taken to Get the Bridge at Dumbarton Under Way.

"The most successful meeting the Peninsula Bureau has held yet." Such was the consensus of opinion of members of the bureau who, with many others interested in the welfare of the peninsula, gathered in the city hall in this city last Friday evening. Delegations were present from practically every town in the county and from Palo Alto as well. Ten out of the twelve Chambers of Commerce and civic organizations of the peninsula which are members of the Bureau responded to roll-call at the big gathering, and the capacity of the council chamber in the city hall was taxed to its utmost, a number of people standing who could not secure seats. Members of the county board of supervisors, together with supervisors and city representatives from San Francisco, occupied the platform with President J. J. McGrath of the Bureau.

The Dumbarton bridge project was the chief order of business for the evening, and many expressions of opinion as to the feasibility and need of the bridge were given. Among the speakers were M. M. O'Shaughnessy, city engineer, and George Lull, city attorney, of San Francisco; Supervisors C. V. Thompson, Mrs. Rosalia M. Brown and Thomas L. Hickey of San Mateo county; Attorney Theodore Savage; Philip Thompson, president of the Civic League of San Francisco and member of the local Chamber of Commerce; Fred Drake of San Carlos, and Mrs. John L. McGinn and Mrs. L. E. Woodward of the San Mateo Woman's Club. President J. J. McGraw of the Peninsula Bureau presided at the meeting, being introduced by Judge E. E. Cunningham.

Engineer O'Shaughnessy was most emphatically for the bridge. Acting under instructions from the San Francisco supervisors, he stated that they were willing to pay 60 per cent of the cost of the bridge if San Mateo county would raise 40 per cent. O'Shaughnessy also stated that undoubtedly the bridge would soon pay for its own construction if made a toll bridge. It is expected, according to information brought out at the meeting, that the bridge will cost about $1,200,000.

The eastside highway was touched upon in several of the addresses given, but only incidentally in relation to the bridge. The two are linked closely together, it was declared. The bridge would undoubtedly bring a great deal more traffic still on the highway along the peninsula and make all the more necessary another road from Daly City south to relieve traffic.

The climax of the meeting was reached when Fred Drake introduced a resolution to be presented to the board of supervisors. This resolution set forth that the Dumbarton bridge was considered necessary to the advancement and welfare of San Mateo county and that the county surveyor be instructed to make a report on such bridge, setting forth its best location, most feasible type, etc. The resolution also carried a clause that the board of supervisors and the county surveyor attend a meeting of the United States Board of Army Engineers to be held in San Francisco Friday of this week to consider plans for bridging the bay, and urge the construction of such bridge at Dumbarton Point. This resolution carried unanimously.

MOTORCYCLIST DIES ON BAYSHORE ROAD

Skull Is Fractured When Machine Strikes Bank Beside Road.

"Came to his death from fracture of the skull and hemorrhage sustained while riding a motorcycle." Such was the verdict of the coroner's jury sitting Monday at the S. Neri undertaking parlors in the case of John Arata of 718 Vermont avenue, San Francisco, who was killed on the Bay Shore road near Visitation early Sunday morning.

Witnesses examined at the inquest testified that Arata was coming south on the Bay Shore road at about 6 o'clock in the morning. According to these witnesses, the man was riding at a very rapid rate of speed. One witness testified that he was traveling in the same direction at about sixty-five miles an hour, and that Arata passed him at a great deal more rapid pace. When near the plant of the Pacific Bone and Fertilizer Company, Arata came to a small hill and curve and seemingly lost control of his machine, which smashed into the bank, hurling him to the pavement.

Joe Griffin of 1910 Keet street, San Francisco, who was passing in an automobile, picked the unconscious man up and brought him to the South San Francisco Hospital, where Dr. S. S. Irvine did all possible to save his life, but he died without regaining consciousness.

Arata was a young man, about 28 years of age. He left a wife. The funeral took place Wednesday, with interment in the Italian cemetery.

WORK ON BIG RACE "TRACK IS UNDER WAY"

Force of Men on Ground Preparing Ground for Speedway.

Lumber to be used in the construction of the Greater San Francisco Speedway Association's big racing bowl at San Carlos, just north of Redwood City, began arriving last week at the rate of 125,000 feet a day. It will require over 4,000,000 feet of lumber to construct this great racetrack.

A large force of men is already at work preparing the ground for the erection of the grandstands, which will seat 50,000 spectators. A space where hundreds of machines may park will be built in the center of the structure. This will be reached by tunnel under the track. Ex-service men are being favored in filling the positions at the track, according to instructions issued by the officials of the company last week.

The officials of the association are attending the races at Fresno this week, when they will sign up the great drivers entered in that event for the first big meet that is to be held on the San Carlos track December 11th.

JURY DISAGREES IN DAMAGE SUIT AGAINST THE U. R. R.

A jury in the case of Wilkinson vs. the United Railroads, after being out over an hour, reported to Judge George H. Buck that it was unable to reach an agreement, and was discharged.

Wilkinson, who is an invalid, sued the company for $100,000 as a result of the death of his wife, Elizabeth G. Wilkinson, who was struck by an electric car at the San Bruno crossing on July 3, 1920. The plaintiff was represented by Attorney H. D. Newhouse of San Francisco, while Attorney Hall C. Ross of Redwood City represented the defendant.

WARRANTS SECURED FOR HALFMOON BAY BOOTLEGGERS

Search warrants and warrants for the arrest of three alleged members of the Halfmoon Bay bootlegging ring were secured Monday in San Francisco before Court Commissioner Thomas E. Hayden by prohibition agents.

While the names of those for whom the warrants were issued were not made public, it was said that one of the warrants was for a woman and another for a fisherman who acted as pilot to booze runners.

The action was the result of raids conducted at Halfmoon Bay several days ago by John Exnicios, Tom Brown of the prohibition enforcement office, W. J. Jordan and J. B. Doyle.

POPULAR TEACHER ANNOUNCES MARRIAGE

"Miss Marguerite Kauffmann" Springs Surprise on Her Many Friends.

Friends and fellow-citizens, meet Mrs. W. Gillen. Many of you have had that pleasure already, but don't know it. You have probably known the young lady as Miss Marguerite Kauffmann, but you're wrong, you're all wrong. She has been Mrs. "Bill" Gillen since June 22d of the present year. This is the surprise the young lady in question sprung on her friends Wednesday, and congratulations are now in order. The wedding has been kept a profound secret from even Miss Kauffmann's most intimate friends.

Mrs. Gillen has been a teacher at the grammar school in this city for a number of years. Soon after the close of school for the summer vacation she went south and was quietly married at Santa Ana, the honeymoon being spent at Long Beach. The happy couple are now living in Oakland. Mrs. Gillen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Kauffmann and has lived in this city with her parents for twenty-five years. She is a sister of E. P. and A. E. Kauffmann of the firm of Kauffmann Bros.

Mr. Gillen is well known in South San Francisco, having at one time been an employee of the W. P. Fuller Company here.

DAUGHTER OF MRS. WOODMAN DIES IN S. F. HOSPITAL

Once more the hand of death settled on the family of Mrs. Anna Woodman of this city this week, when Mrs. Evelyn L. Rolf of Daly City, Mrs. Woodman's daughter, died at St. Joseph's Hospital in San Francisco. Death came following about two weeks' illness. Mrs. Rolf was well known here, having lived in Daly City for many years and often visiting her parents, Mrs. Woodman and the late E. I. Woodman of this city, former editor of The Enterprise. Henry T. Rolf, husband of the deceased, was formerly an employee of the steel mill here.

Beside her mother and husband, the deceased leaves two sons, Everett I. and Henry T. Rolf Jr.; six brothers, Fred, Charles, Herbert, Arthur, Ralph and Lyle Woodman, and two sisters, Mrs. W. E. Bates and Mrs. H. D. Cushing. She was 36 years of age at the time of her death.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the W. C. Lasswell undertaking parlors, Daly City. Cremation will follow at Cypress Lawn Cemetery.

Mrs. Rolf's passing is the sixth death that has occurred in the Woodman family within eighteen months.

SEWER CONTRACT AWARDED MON. NIGHT

Hickey & Harmon Secure Work, Which Will Be Started Immediately and Local Labor Be Hired.

The formal award of contract for the construction of a concrete storm sewer crossing under the Southern Pacific tracks near the site of the proposed Fontana Food Products factory was made at Monday evening's meeting of the board of trustees. All members of the board were present except Trustee H. Scampini. All voted that the contract be awarded to Hickey & Harmon, contractors of San Francisco. The price of the work, including certain parts of it which the Southern Pacific will have done and for which the city will pay, is $5733.13. The work to be done by the railroad includes the driving of necessary piling. The work will be started immediately, and a representative of the contractors who was present stated that his company would hire local help as far as possible.

A soft drink license was granted to Rasmus and Silas Carlson. The Carlson brothers have recently purchased the Monize barber shop and poolroom from Manuel Monize, and the license was for that place.

Leon Edwards was granted a restaurant soft drink license for the De Long Hotel.

A communication from the Fontana Food Products Company stated that the 12-foot right of way asked for by the city for a storm drain sewer line along the company's property would be granted. It also set forth that the company expected to erect a building over the sewer, and asked the city to assume responsibility for damage if the concrete sewer line did not withstand the strain of a 600-pound pressure to the square foot, the weight it is designed to carry. City Clerk D. McSweeney was instructed to reply that, while the board had every confidence the sewer would stand the strain expected of it, the city would assume no responsibility on that score.

W. Frank Geldert, the accountant who has been auditing the city's books, sent in a letter stating that his work on the books, covering the period from April 21, 1920, to June 30, 1921, had been completed. The report showed that the accounts of the city clerk and city treasurer balanced perfectly.

The monthly reports of the various city officers, including Fire Chief B. H. Truax, City Marshal C. C. Conrad, City Recorder E. E. Cunningham, City Clerk D. McSweeney, and City Treasurer E. P. Kauffmann, were read.

The last matter taken up was the auditing of a number of bills against the city, which were ordered paid.

METHODISTS WELCOME PASTOR FOR ANOTHER YEAR

St. Paul's Methodist Church was bright with special decorations last Sunday when the congregation welcomed back for another year the pastor, the Rev. C. L. Peck. Mr. Peck has been sent back to this charge by the Methodist conference, and the members of the church were much pleased at his return. The popular pastor, whose home at present is in San Jose, has announced that he intends to move to this city to live in the near future.

Beginning next Sunday, Mr. Peck will deliver a series of sermons to young people. The first sermon will be for young men, and the pastor has announced that it will contain a list of twelve "don'ts" that every young man should observe. By a special arrangement with Mr. Peck, The Enterprise will publish a condensed review of each sermon of the series, beginning next week.

STOCKHOLDERS IN DEFUNCT RAILROAD TO GET DIVIDEND

J. W. Crosby, secretary of the Ocean Shore Railroad Company, San Francisco, mailed Monday a notice to every stockholder that liquidating dividend No. 4 of $1.50 a share was ready for delivery to stockholders of record September 28th. The notice told the stockholders to bring their stock certificates with them, as, in accordance with a ruling of the Railroad Commission, the liquidating dividends must be entered on the certificate.

MURDER TRIAL DRAWS LARGE AUDIENCE

SUPERIOR COURTROOM AT COUNTY SEAT PACKED AS HIGHTOWER IS PUT ON TRIAL IN FAMOUS CASE OF MURDERED PRIEST.

After almost three days consumed in the examination of prospective jurors, the trial of William Hightower, accused of the murder of Father Heslin of Colma, which began Monday morning in the superior court at Redwood City, got under way Wednesday afternoon. Five women and seven men compose the jury in whose hands the fate of Hightower rests. The members of the jury are as follows:

Mrs. Florence B. Kellogg, Redwood City, wife of Walter Kellogg, local manager Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

Mrs. Elise J. Turk, Belmont, wife of a storekeeper.

Mrs. Catherine Denney, San Carlos, wife of a painting contractor.

Mrs. Nellie Hunter, Lomita Park, wife of department manager for Baker & Hamilton, San Francisco.

Charles I. McKinney, Redwood City, cigar manufacturer.

C. M. Doozee, Redwood City, president and manager George H. Rice Abstract Company.

Mrs. Mittie M. Winiger, Redwood City, wife of L. B. Winiger, painting contractor.

M. J. Knox, Redwood City, dry goods merchant.

John Rowell, Belmont, rancher.

Frederick D. Lorton, Burlingame, real-estate dealer.

T. E. Roe, San Gregorio, rancher.

Seth Cohen, San Mateo, contractor.

Following the selection of the jury, District Attorney Swart spoke for over half an hour, setting forth the details of the visit of the mysterious stranger to Father Heslin's house the night of the abduction, and the circumstances connecting Hightower with the crime. Swart made points against the defendant as follows: That he had been seen at the location of the priest's grave before his arrest; that he told the famous "flap-jack" sign story in conflicting ways; that he had set up an infernal machine loaded with ten cartridges which could be fired together, commanding a view of Heslin's house; that he had lied about the blood-stained burlap found near the grave; that he had led a posse directly to the priest's grave and seemed intimately acquainted with the locality; that August 2d, or the day after the kidnaping, he had pawned a gun corresponding to the size of the empty cartridges found at the grave.

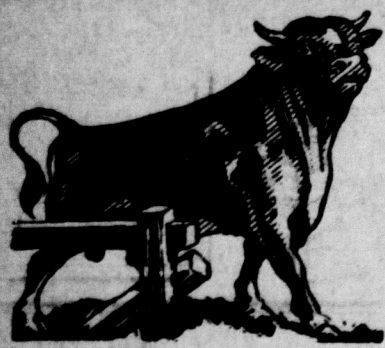

Following Swart's address, a San Francisco newspaper reporter testified to being in the midnight party that dug up the priest's body, Dr. John Clark told of the autopsy on the body and the nature of the wounds, Coroner W. A. Brooke told of the bullet taken from the body, Father James Cantwell told of the receipt of the famous ransom letter at St. Mary's Cathedral, and Chief of Police O'Brien of San Francisco told of the midnight search party that found the body. No point was brought out that has not already been given to the world many times through the newspapers.

Throughout the trial so far the court room has been packed with spectators. It is impossible to forecast how long the trial will last, but there is every indication that it will resolve itself into a keen battle of wits between opposing counsel. There is also every evidence that the jury will judge the case and settle the defendant's fate on largely circumstantial evidence.

The Band of Hope.

When the wife of Joe Betts, an Alabama darkey, died, he mourned her sincerely. "I'm going to put a black border to my house," he said. And he did. A week later a broad band of black outlined the front of his little dwelling.

A couple of years passed. Then one of his neighbors, stopping to speak to Joe, found him gazing up at his little black-edged house with an air of perplexity.

"It lasts well, Joe," said the neighbor, in a tone of sympathy, "but the black grows a little rusty. You will have to put on another coat."

"Yessuh," said Joe. "Daisy Moore, she says it needs another coat."

"Daisy Moore! Oh! But has she said black paint, Joe?"

"Uh!" grunted Joe, and then his look of perplexity vanished in a slow grin. "I'm going to ask her tonight," he added briskly.

Two days later the sympathetic neighbor, passing again, was greeted by Joe from a ladder set against the house.

"How does yo' like it?" he asked, waving his paint brush toward the band of bright red glowing across the top of the little house. "Daisy Moore, she picked it out. We git married next week."—Philadelphia Ledger.

REALLY NO CAUSE FOR ALARM

Crowd That Feared Tragedy Had Not Reckoned With Resourcefulness of Child's Mother.

A large crowd had halted and all were looking up at a fourth-story window. The lower sash was open and a child leaned far out over the sill, trying to catch a sparrow.

Exclamations of horror broke out as the infant reached further and further over the sill.

At length a woman spectator cried out:

"What idiots you men are! Why don't you go and tell the child's mother?"

Three or four started, but they had not crossed the street before the child lost its balance and pitched out head first.

There was a shriek, which was suddenly checked, as the child stopped short in his headlong drop and hung squalling two feet below the window, with a stout cord tied round his waist. His howls brought a woman to the window. She pulled him up into the room again and then shouted to the gasping crowd below:

"Think I don't know my business, eh? Well, I just do; and you can move on, please!"

as a Great Chief.

A happy picture of the Eskimo is given by Donald B. MacMillan in his recollections of Peary's journey to the North Pole. "Finally that day arrived when we passed in under the big hills of Meteorite island and heard the glad cry of those Far North natives upon beholding 'Peary-ark-suah' (Big Peary) back again. Let there be no doubt as to Peary's popularity in the Far North. Absolutely honest and square in all his dealings with these black-haired children of the Arctic, firm but ever just and kind in all his relations, he remains to them as the great 'Nalegak,' a leader or chief among men. We can never forget this reception at Cape York—kayaks darting about the ship, the shouts of his former dog-drivers, men who had starved with him on the Polar sea, others on the shore standing at the water's edge ready to grasp the bow of our boat, women laughing, babies crying, and half-grown children with that look of mingled fear and animal curiosity. How happy they were to see him back!"

STATE SCRIP TO BE SOLD AT PUBLIC AUCTION

A public auction sale of state scrip will be held by Surveyor-General W. S. Kingsbury at the State Capitol, Sacramento, Monday, November 7, 1921, at 10 o'clock a. m.

State scrip is the cheapest land scrip on the market today. It can be purchased only by citizens of the United States who are residents of California, and can be located on any vacant non-mineral unreserved United States government land in the state.

Homestead and desert land entrymen can relinquish their entries through the surveyor-general's office and acquire title to the land by the purchase of the scrip, provided the land is not withdrawn by the federal government for public purposes prior to the date the land is scripped. The applicant need not live on or improve the land.

State scrip is not transferable. It is sold in forty-four acre lots for cash, personal checks received, but no purchaser can buy more than 640 acres, and the surrender of the scrip is payment for an equal acreage of government land.

At the last auction sale of state scrip the price received averaged $6.97 per acre.

All money received from the sale of state scrip goes to the support of the public schools of the state.

For circular giving information concerning state scrip, address the state surveyor-general, Sacramento.

Wrong Ideas on Paint Economy

THERE'S one way to save on paint. That way is to use the best of paint.

Some think of paint economy as "cost per gallon." That is wrong. Cheap paint doesn't cover as much surface—you need more gallons.

Cheap paint is more difficult to spread, requires more labor, so the best paint costs no more when you've put it on the house than cheap paint does.

More than that, it lasts five or more years longer, if properly applied, while cheap paint on the average begins cracking in twelve months. Good paint is an investment that saves money by preventing deterioration of the house.

"Cheap" paint is the only paint that really costs you anything.

Don't allow surfaces to rot—it costs less to paint them.

We've made paints for western use for 72 years. We use pure PIONEER WHITE LEAD, pure linseed oil, zinc and color, but we mix them in scientific proportions with long-time skill.

Our white lead base must be fine enough to pass through a silk screen with 40,000 meshes to the square inch. That means covering capacity and ease of spreading. We super-purify the lead to make it "whiter," which means clear-toned colors.

The finished product on the house is a beautiful, elastic tough protective coating.

We call these paints "Fuller's Specification House Paints" because they are the very best made for the purpose.

LET PRIDE BEGIN AT HOME

We all take pride in our country because it is a great country—the greatest of them all.

But what constitutes this country? The forests, and the fields, and the mountains, and the valleys, and the prairies, and the lakes, and the rivers, and the hamlets, and the villages, and the towns, and the cities, and all of the human and other life that exists therein and thereon.

This town is a part of this country, and our pride of country should extend to the community in which we live.

Our individual homes are a part of this town, and our pride of country and town should begin with the homes in which we live.

If we make them as near perfection as our resources will permit, then the town and the state and the country reflects the warmth and the glory of our firesides.

We look at the big cities and marvel at their immensity—at their wealth, and their enterprise, and their growth.

But do we remember that before these cities became great they were small, even as we are?

Their citizens saw the opportunities that were before them, and were quick to grasp them. Pride in their improvements impelled them to press onward and make other and greater ones.

As the giant oaks sprung from little acorns, so have these great cities sprung from what were once little hamlets and villages—often from barren wastes of land.

But they did not spring up of their own accord.

The people of the tiny hamlets took pride in their homes, and their surroundings, and worked to make them better and more prosperous. It is this stalwart quality of thrift and energy that has made them what they are today—metropolitan centers of population and commerce which are known all over the civilized world.

And the root of it all was pride.

Few things are impossible to a people who have the will to accomplish.

But without the will to perform no great endings will come from little beginnings.

Let us consider the future of this town—but let us begin with pride in the home, and the improvements we may make therein.

Today we are small, but there is always a tomorrow—and tomorrow is ever flowing with new hopes of advancement and achievement.

Our geographical situation is such that we may never become a great city, but it does not prevent the possibility of making of our home town a paradise in which to live.

Pride in the home has done it for other towns.

It can do it for South San Francisco. Why not?

ARBuckle's RELEASE

Temporarily, at least, with certain limitations, "Fatty" is a free man. Under our laws, despite the cries from loving and outraged friends, thousands of indignant male citizens and tens of thousands of mothers for justice, for a price, this circumstantially proven defector of our laws and disregarder of the sacred rights of womanhood is permitted to mingle with those who obey the mandates of the land and society and furnish the wherewith to punish those who break them, fully and freely, and enjoy equal comforts and privileges with such.

For a price, justly and within their rights according to the laws, able and brilliant legal talent fought for this privilege for their client and an able judicial mind upheld them and decided in his favor.

Naturally the question arises, why should this man be allowed even temporary freedom when a man without money, or its equivalent, situated exactly as Arbuckle is, with the exception of wealth, would still be behind prison bars until twelve men good and true had pronounced him innocent or guilty?

The answer is that he would have every accused person innocent until he is proven guilty, and that, this being the case, when suitable assurance according to law is furnished that the accused will hold himself in readiness to stand trial when called, he is permitted the rights of an innocent man until such time.

Surely there would seem to be sufficient evidence to convict the accused of manslaughter, as charged, and if convicted the penalty will be severe; therefore, it is not reasonable to inquire which will seem less troublesome to a man who has enjoyed an income of $5000 in, comparatively speaking, a very few days, the forfeiture of this sum, his bail, and a home in foreign lands, or a prison term at manual labor? "He will be watched. He can't get away." So was Roy Gardner.

Lack of bail would deny a culprit such a chance; bail permits it. Does not law in such cases at times border on the humorous?

Arbuckle has made the world laugh for some years past. Will he have the laugh on the world shortly? We could continue this to a considerable length, but really there is enough here already for food for thought for readers for a time.—Santa Cruz Sentinel.

THE LESSON OF EMMA GOLDMAN

Reports from Russia convey the intelligence that Emma Goldman is faring badly in that paradise of red radicalism. Emma, the goddess of social revolution and anarchy, has had enough of Russia, and would give anything to be back again under the protection of the stars and stripes.

It is a curious fact, that the American flag looks better to malcontents the farther away they get from its sheltering folds. Even to those who have the highest regard and love for it at home, the flag gains an added significance in the remote parts of the earth. But how dear it must seem amid the wild disorders and dangers of Russia! How soon is the lesson learned that true liberty does not mean license, and that a country without law and order is no better than a hell upon earth!—Industrial News Bureau.

Some means should be found of putting the unemployed back to work again before the winter sets in. If there is any work the government wants done it should begin now. The same is true of the states and the municipalities. Every public improvement thus started means work and food and clothing for an increased number of people this winter. The unemployed are not looking for charity. They want work.

Pancho Villa says that neither the United States nor the Mexican government can take that absconding Chicago banker away from him. At any rate, we are inclined to the belief that neither of them will—as long as there are any pickings for Pancho.

When we hear a fellow boasting that he never changes his mind we quite agree with him. It is difficult to change something that does not exist.

MAJOR SAM McCULLOUGH'S LEAP FOR LIFE

Fort Henry was a little stockade built for the protection of the settlers of West Virginia against the British and Indians during the War of the Revolution. It stood on the Ohio river near the present site of Wheeling. In the summer of 1777 when it was besieged by a strong force of savages, Maj. Sam McCullough, a noted border leader, left Fort Pitt at the head of 40 men to raise the siege.

Coming in sight of the fort, McCullough's men made a dash for the gates and passed through them in safety, although the Indians made a desperate effort to cut them off. Major McCullough held back to cover the retreat of his men until they were safely within its walls and delayed so long that the redskins succeeded in getting between him and the fort.

Setting spurs to his horse, the ranger leader dashed for a hill back of the fort. At its top he met another band of Indians and at the same time a third group approached him from another direction. The Indians were now on three sides of him. On the other was a high precipice projecting over Wheeling creek, 300 feet below. The ranger was cornered.

The Indians raised a yell of triumph as they closed in on him. But when they saw McCullough turn his horse toward the cliff, they stopped in amazement.

Urging his horse to a dead run, the scout dashed toward the precipice. At the brink of the chasm he drove home the spurs and as his mount flew into the air braced himself in the saddle. The first leap was a clear drop of 50 feet, but both horse and rider were uninjured as they landed on the steep bank. Then slipping and sliding for 250 feet more, they came to the creek bottom.

As the Indians rushed to the edge of the precipice expecting to see the crushed forms of horse and man far below, they were astonished at the sight of the major, still upright in the saddle, plunging into the creek and riding up the other side to safety. Within a few hours he was back at Fort Pitt, organizing a larger expedition to march to Fort Henry.

Five years later as Major McCullough and his brother were riding along a road near Van Metre's fort, unsuspecting danger, they rode directly into an Indian ambush. This time McCullough's horsemanship could do him no good. A dozen Indian rifle shots rang out and Sam McCullough fell dead.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. Catarrhal Deafness requires constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing will be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions.

CHAMBER MEETS IN REGULAR SESSION

Discussion of City Purchase of the Bank Building for City Hall Held by Members.

The Chamber of Commerce held its regular meeting at California Hall Wednesday evening, with President Dr. F. Holmes Smith in the chair.

On the conclusion of routine business a general discussion was entered into relative to the possibility of the contractors who are doing the street work allowing a discount to those paying cash within the thirty days after the completion of the work, and before the unpaid balance went to a bond issue. President Hatch of the local bank gave it as his opinion that nothing could be gained along this line, but the consensus of opinion was that such an attempt should be made, and a motion was passed authorizing the chairman to appoint a committee of three to interview Mr. Wahl, or, if necessary, Mr. Griffin, in regard to this matter.

Mr. Hatch then announced that he thought all would agree the present city hall was a disgrace to the city, and further that its present location was inconvenient and dangerous to reach on account of the traffic on the highway. He suggested that the city purchase the present bank building, and, in furtherance of such a plan, he would be willing that the bank appoint one man and the city trustees another to appraise the value of the building, and that he would pledge himself to accept such valuation, and further, that in such purchase they could, after agreeing on the price, pay for same in any amount per year with the ordinary bank interest on the principal. If such appraisers could not agree on a price, a third party should be appointed to co-operate with the other two, and the majority should settle the matter. He would, Mr. Hatch went on to say, shortly write a letter to the city trustees suggesting a purchase along such lines. In purchasing the bank building for a city hall, it was recognized by all present that much of value would indirectly accrue to the benefit of San Bruno. Such purchase, for instance, would enable the bank to at once commence the construction of a modern, up-to-date building to cost in the neighborhood of $20,000. This would give an impetus to the general prosperity of the city and influence healthy growth.

Several members spoke in favor of the plan. Secretary G. A. Helmore stating he considered it a matter upon which the opinion of the citizens of San Bruno should be obtained. He went on to say he believed the revenue derived from the sublettings would be sufficient to meet annual payments, if not all interest charges. Undoubtedly the property would appreciate in value, and he believed that by the time that it would be desirable to build a permanent city hall the increased value of California Hall and the four lots that would be included in the purchase would go a long way toward defraying the cost. He suggested the matter be looked into seriously and a valuation arrived at, the approximate amount of revenue to be derived from sublettings determined, and the exact terms of the purchase fixed; this done, the wishes of the citizens of San Bruno could be ascertained.

Other business transacted was the acceptance of the resignation of the corresponding secretary, Charles Ledwith, whose personal interests no longer permitted his retaining the position. The secretary undertook to discharge the duties hitherto undertaken by Mr. Ledwith without pay.

YEOMEN INSTALL OFFICERS.

The new elected officers of the local Homestead No. 910, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, were installed Tuesday night, Peter Bollinger being installing officer. Mrs. Storer, the new Lady Rowena, was absent owing to illness, but was represented by Mrs. Marshall, who took the obligation for her.

TUG-OF-WAR TEAM CAPTAIN GIVEN HANDSOME PRESENT

Tuesday night, during the regular meeting of the local homestead, Brotherhood of American Yeomen, O. Osborne, who captained the victorious Yeomen team in the recent tug-of-war contest, was presented with a handsome safety razor in a gilt case tastefully engraved with his initials, Peter Bollinger making the presentation on behalf of the members of the team, who had subscribed the necessary sum for its purchase among themselves. Mr. Bollinger, in a few eloquent and appropriate remarks, assured Mr. Osborne of the thanks of not only the team which he had so skillfully piloted to victory, but of every member of the homestead. Mr. Osborne was taken completely by surprise, but responded in a neat and appropriate manner, thanking the boys for the present, which he stated he would value through life.

Our school children have been out on holiday the whole of this week.

LOCALS

Ode Osborne left for Cummings. Mendocino county, Tuesday, returning Friday.

A feed store has been opened by Edward Scanlon in the old Standard dry goods store.

Mrs. Storer has been confined to her bed for a few days this week, but is now much better.

Mrs. George Follett of San Francisco was in the city Sunday on a visit to her grandmother, Mrs. Alcei Laumeister.

J. H. Callaghy and Miss Mabel Wright were obligated Tuesday night in local Homestead No. 910, Brotherhood of American Yeomen.

Butts Gouzenes and Paul Schmidt were out duck shooting for three days last week-end at Willits, and returned home with a limit bag of fifty-seven ducks.

During the week work has been commenced on paving San Mateo avenue from curb to curb. This when finished will prove a great boon to all those who use the road.

Mrs. Alice Laumeister was passed for a juror for two days in the Hightower case, but was finally dismissed from the panel on a peremptory challenge by the defense.

The Federation of the Parent-Teacher Association for San Mateo county will hold its annual convention at the school house in Lomita Park, Friday, October 21st.

Mrs. Meehan, the wife of City Marshal Meehan, has returned from the hospital in San Mateo, where she recently underwent a serious operation. Her many friends are congratulating her on being home again.

The annual Yeomen banquet takes place at the Bellevue Tavern next Tuesday evening, at which it is expected close upon 200 Yeomen and their friends will be present. A fine orchestra of seven pieces will play during the evening.

Mr. Rasco of the Novelty Theater has just installed two new projecting machines at a cost of $1200, similar to those now being put in at the Granada Theater in San Francisco. The Novelty after this week will be open on three nights, viz., Wednesday, Friday and Sunday of each week.

The alterations to the lower part of California Hall are proceeding, and were sufficiently advanced to permit it being used for supper at last Saturday night's entertainment. When completed Mrs. Flynn will have one of the best restaurants on the peninsula and will be able to cater for all kinds of social gatherings.

Another oil station will probably be erected close to the Union Oil service station now in course of erection, property owners in that section having been already approached looking toward the purchase of land for that purpose. We understand that the trustees of the Uncle Tom's Cabin estate were approached for a lease of the land immediately in front of the hotel, but refused to consider the proposition. At the same time they expressed their willingness to lease the corner opposite the Hirrell grocery, but so far this offer has not been accepted.

SCORED ON STEPHEN GIRARD

Financier Usually Had a Sure Thing, but This Time Cashier Caught Him Napping.

Stephen Girard was a very close man, and every penny was treated with respect. He seldom bet, and when he did it was as near a sure thing as he could make it. He had a young cashier in his employ that had lost various small sums to Girard from time to time, and who was anxious for revenge. One day the two got into an argument as to how long it would take to count a million dollars.

"You couldn't make a million dots of ink in the time it would take me to drive to my farm, spend two hours there and drive back," exclaimed Girard.

"Bet $50 I can," retorted the cashier.

The money was posted, and Girard drove away. When he returned, instead of finding the cashier humped up over a pile of blank paper with his pen jabbing hopelessly away, the rich man discovered the cashier calmly smoking a cigar. He waved his hand at the walls of the counting house. Girard looked closely and saw they were literally covered with ink dots.

"Is that a million?" he gasped.

"Count 'em," said the cashier.

"You didn't do them with a pen."

"Oh, no, I did them with a tooth brush," grinned the employee, pocketing the money. "Nothing was said about a pen."

NOTHING MORE TO SAY

"John's joined the great silent army."

"When did he die?"

"He didn't die; he got married."

RESOURCES.

Edward and his grandmother are great "pals." Therefore, it was with much sorrow that he looked on at the preparations for grandmother's departure for her home.

"Grandma," he said, wistfully, "what will you do without any little boy to play with when you get home?"

"Well, of course, I shall miss you very, very much, Edward, but, then, I have resources for amusement at home, too," answered grandma.

Edward looked puzzled, but said nothing. But evidently grandmother's "resources" troubled him, for next day, alone with his mother, he said, after a long silence:

"Mother, where does grandma keep her race horses? I never saw them."—Indianapolis News.

STREET NAMES IN AMERICA.

The practice of giving numbers and letters instead of names to the street and avenues of American cities is so familiar to us that it excites no thought, except of convenience. But it is a practice often remarked upon by foreigners as peculiar to the United States and as evidence of the matter-of-fact, unimaginative character of the American people.

What Does He Know About It?

Says the bachelor editor of the Wathena Times: "How can you expect girls to marry and be satisfied with their husbands? They are seldom satisfied with themselves. There is always something, complexion, weight, height, the color of the eyes or hair, that does not suit them. And it's a case where 'murder will out,' for they just can't keep from telling where they themselves think they could be improved. Except for that, easily fooled men might readily imagine them to be perfect. A wise providence seems to have decreed that they should tote fair, to the extent of warning men of their imperfections."—Houston Post.

The saving grease of common sense lubricates the squeaking wheels of daily life.—Chicago Journal of Commerce.

Why They Fooled Him.

Elinor Glyn said at a dinner: "The average Spanish couple have a child a year for twenty years or so. A good many of these children die, but nevertheless the average Spanish family boasts about twelve children."

"A Spanish grandee took his family to America last year, and one day, as he was leading the way into a New York department store, a policeman halted him rudely."

"Here, what you been doin'?" the policeman said.

"Nothing," said the Spanish grandee.

"Then what are all these children follerin' you for?" the policeman said suspiciously.—Detroit Free Press.

The War Department will save $40,000,000 this year. We would like to learn their system.—South Charleston (O.) Sentinel.

OUR GREATEST BALANCED
DRAWBRIDGE

IN ONE way it is surprising and in another it isn't that in the most unexpected of places one often will find the greatest of its kind. To illustrate, across the Chicago river, which is not a nationally-known stream, at 16th street, Chicago, one is a bit astonished to find a single-lift, counterbalanced bridge that is one of the marvels of engineering and the longest and greatest structure of the kind in the world.

At this point an exceedingly heavy traffic interchange takes place between several large railroad systems and,
at the same time, the traffic on this busy little river is such that the continuous flow of the rail traffic is frequently interrupted by the passing of ships.

This condition necessarily called for a structure which could be opened and closed in the minimum of time and was, at the same time, suitable to accommodate the traffic conditions.

The river is bridged by one enormous span, about 285 feet long, which, standing on end, is as high as a 22-story building and weighs approximately 3,500 tons. One end is stationary, the other is raised and lowered by electric power—only 14 minutes being required to open or close the span.

The bridge is single span, carries a double track, successfully meets the peculiar requirements imposed upon it and cost upward of $500,000.

THE FATHER OF WATERS

COUNTING the longest branch as a part of it, the Mississippi is the longest river in the world. Hernando de Soto lake and not Lake Itasca, as commonly supposed, is now considered by some authorities as its place of beginning.

There is a difference of 1,470 feet between the elevations of its mouth and of its head and during its journey from Minnesota to the Gulf of Mexico the temperature depending upon the season, sometimes varies as much as 150 degrees.

Its waters wash the soils of ten states. In the vicinity of Red river, Louisiana, the volume of its flow is estimated to exceed 12,000,000 gallons per second.

The Wisconsin, Des Moines, Illinois, Missouri, Ohio, White, Arkansas and Red river systems, as well as a large number of "lesser lights" with their myriads of tributaries, flow into
it. These rivers carry drainage from 28 of the 48 states. This tremendous watershed has an area of 1,240,000 square miles or 41% of the entire United States.

The Mississippi is navigable for almost its entire length or from St. Paul to the Gulf.

Large numbers of passengers are transported between local points and tremendous quantities of freight—principally grain, cotton, live stock, coal, lumber, logs, provisions, stone, gravel and sand are carried upon its surface. The river freight at the port of New Orleans, during a recent year, amounted 1,000,000,000 tons.

Cleaned While He Waited.

A little fellow sat on a doorstep crying bitterly. Presently a sympathetic old lady came along.

"What's the matter, little boy?" she asked.

"Got my new pants covered with dust," sobbed the boy.

"But they're clean now, dear," continued the woman.

"I know they are," wailed the lad.

"Then why do you still cry, child?"

"'Cos mother wouldn't let me take

'em off while she beat the dust out."— dita di bibite leggere ai fratelli Carlson i quali hanno recentemente acquistato il biliardo e barberia del

lette e pagate.

IL COLLETTORE DI TASSE FARA'
PRESTO LA VISITA ANNUALE

Il collettore di tasse della contea A.
McSweeney fara' la sua visita annuale ai differenti paesi della contea cominciando il due Novembre.

Queste visite sono arrangiate per la comodita' dei pagatori di tasse i quali dovrebbero in altro modo recarsi a Redwood City per pagare le tasse.

Il Signor McSweeney sara' in San Bruno il sette Novembre, in South San Francisco il nove, in Colma il dieci ed in Daly City il dodici.

LA DECISIONE DELLA CORTE
SUPERIORE CONTRA GLI ALLE-VATORI DI PORCI IN COLMA

Il Giudice G. H. Buck ha deciso in contrarieta' verso Charles Frahm e Henry Bleacher, tutti e due di Colma, ciascuno dei quali essendo stati tro-vati colpevoli dal Giudice Smith il Febbraio scorso, di tenere porci in Colma contro ordine della contea.

I due furono multati $50 ciascuno dal Giudice Smith, ma portarono la causa alla corte superiore.

Cascuno deve ora pagare la multa
od andare in prigione.

I SUPERVISORS RIUNITI
IN SESSIONE REGOLARE

I supervisors tennero adunanza a Redwood City Lunedi' mattina.

Un'applicazione per avere l'appoggio del concilio riguardo la pista da corsa di San Carlos, fu rimandata poiche' questa portava i termini (Greater San Francisco) e questo non ando' a genio dei supervisors sapendo che la sud-detta pista non e' locata in San Francisco, ma bensì nel cuore della contea di San Mateo.

Un contratto per la costruzione di
un muro a protezione della via da Colma a Halfmoon Bay fu affidato a A.
Mattoon di San Bruno per $600.

I piani sottomessi dal perito Kneese per l'apertura del torrente di Colma per contenere l'acqua che durante stagione piovosa allaga la via, furono accettati ed approvati.

A richiesta del Supervisor Hickey un ufficiale di traffico fu permesso per la via di Bay Shore la Domenica.

Il concilio appoggio' il progetto del
ponte di Dumbarton ed istruì il perito conteale d'ispezionare il luogo a rapportare sul miglior tipo di ponte.

Il concilio attende una riunione degli ingegneri federali in San Francisco oggi (Venerdi') per presentare la questione davanti ad essi.

MORTOCICLISTA UCCISO
DOMENICA A BAY SHORE

John Arata, residente al 718 Vermont avenue, San Francisco, rimase ucciso Domenica mattina alle ore sei circa quando la motocicletta la quale montava, ando' a slattere nel poggio a Bay Shore vicino al Pacific Bone and Fertilizer plant.

Ebbe il cervello fratturato e dopo condotto all'ospedale di South San Francisco ivi mori' senza riacquistare senzi.

Testimoni dell'inchiesta dichiararono veniva verso il sud ad una discreta velocita' e sembra abbia perduto il controllo della macchina.

GRANDE RIUNIONE DI
PROPAGANDA PER IL
PONTE DI DUMBARTON

Il palazzo municipale di South San Francisco Venerdi' sera era grande-mente affollato, quando il popolo ivi si raduno' da tutte le parte della contea da San Francisco e Palo Alto alla riunione del concilio della penisola.

Diversi supervisors della contea come pure quelli di San Francisco erano presenti, insieme al City Attorney George Lull e l'ingegnere M. M.
O'Shaughnessy.

Il progetto del ponte di Dumbarton ricevette un grande effetto per una risoluzione passata, per la quale i locali supervisors devono indorsarsi la causa del ponte e porre la questione davanti ad un'adunanza di ingegneri federali in San Francisco il giorno 7 di Ottobre.

DYEING FRESHENS OLD FADED GARMENTS AND FURNISHINGS

Dyeing can be done at home so easily that the process has been made part of the club work for boys and girls conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture, co-operating with the state agricultural colleges.

To get good results it is necessary to consider the kind of material and its original color as well as the color to which it is to be dyed. Dyes intended for use with wool or silk materials do not produce satisfactory results with cotton. Dyes intended for cotton materials may be used in dyeing silk, wool, or linen. For materials which are mixtures of cotton and any of the other materials, or materials stitched with cotton, a cotton dye should be used.

It is easy to dye white material any color or re-dye any material the same shade, a darker shade, or black. More skill is required to dye the material an entirely different color. It is impossible to dye any material a lighter color than it was originally unless the darker shade can be bleached out before dyeing. This seldom pays for the labor involved.

How to Combine Primary Colors
Good shades and colors may often be obtained by combining different colors. In dyeing this can be done in two ways: The original color may be combined with a dye of different color, as when blue material is dipped in a yellow dye to get green; or, the material may be dyed first one color and then another, as when it is first dyed blue, dried, and then dipped in a yellow dye to get green.

Red, blue, and yellow are the primary colors. Combining these primary colors in different proportions will produce many different colors and shades. Red and blue produce violet. Red and yellow produce orange. Yellow and blue produce green. When a primary color is too brilliant it can be softened by dipping the material alternately into baths of the other two primary colors.

Instead of softening one color with the other two primary colors, it can sometimes be softened by using its complementary color; that is, the color produced by combining the other two primary colors. It is necessary to have patience in testing samples of goods until a successful effect is obtained.

Preparation of Material

If possible, garments should be ripped apart before dyeing. Linings and trimmings should be removed, also all folds, tucks, and hems. Materials must be weighted, then washed well in soap and water, for grease and dust spots are not covered up by dyeing. Rinse well. Use lukewarm water for wool or silk. Dissolve the dye-stuff thoroughly in a clean enameled basin, mixing first with only a small amount of hot water and gradually adding more water. Strain part of the dye through two thicknesses of cheesecloth into a clean dye kettle of enamel or agate, if possible, containing three gallons of cold water for every pound of material. Add more dye gradually. Be careful not to start with too strong a dye bath, as it is difficult to lighten the color when once fixed.

For cotton material, add salt equal in weight to one-fifth of the weight of the material to be dyed. For wool or silk dye add the same proportion of salt and also at least two tablespoons of strained vinegar for every pound of material. The acid breaks up the dye so that it penetrates more readily into the material. Stir constantly. Test the shade of the dye on a sample of the same material before putting it all in. Remember that it will be darker when wet.

Before immersing the material stir the cold dye bath thoroughly and wet the goods, otherwise it will dye unevenly. Keep the material in motion in the dye bath to prevent spots, streaks, and heat wrinkles, which can not be pressed out. Gradually heat the kettle to the boiling point, and boil the material at least one-half hour. Boiling deepens the shade. Dye penetrates more quickly into soft materials than into those made of hard, twisted threads. If the material is allowed to cool in the dye kettle the shade will be deeper and the dye more fast.

Rinse thoroughly in cold water until the water remains clear. This prevents cracking. Use two old broomsticks with rounded ends to press out the dye from the pieces. Use a wringer (which should be washed thoroughly afterwards) for larger garments. Shake the material until nearly dry and hang in the shade. Press carefully.

BABY'S MILK SHOULD BE PASTEURIZED FOR SAFETY

While many people, especially those who have been brought up in the country and kept cows, state that they prefer the taste of raw milk to that which has been pasteurized, there is no doubt but that pasteurized milk is safer for babies. Baby will like it as well as any substitute for the mother's milk, and will be much less liable to stomach upsets and intestinal disorders, caused by bacteria.

Slight warmth is very favorable to the growth of bacteria, which multiply incredibly fast if milk is not cooled as soon as possible after it is drawn. Pasteurization, or holding the milk at a temperature of 145 degrees F. for thirty minutes, is the best method known for destroying a large percentage of the bacteria without undesirably changing the chemical constituents.

How to Pasteurize Milk at Home

A baby's milk is most conveniently pasteurized once a day in the nursing bottles into which has been measured the quantities needed for each feeding. There is then no likelihood of contamination by pouring it into other bottles. A wire or tin basket that holds the bottles upright makes it possible to handle them all at one time and without scalding the fingers. The tops of the bottles are plugged with clean cotton, and a thermometer inserted in one of them. The bottles in the wire basket are lifted into a pail and surrounded with water nearly to the level of the milk.

When the thermometer registers 145 degrees F. in the milk, the bottles are removed, and cold water added to the pail until the temperature is also 145 degrees F. The bottles are put back, covered with a bath towel or other heavy cloth, and allowed to stand for at least thirty minutes. Rapid cooling is done by running cold water into the pail, and finally the bottles are set in the refrigerator till needed.

Orange juice given babies when fed on pasteurized milk will make up for any loss which the heating caused in the scurvy-preventing power of the vitamins of the milk.

SUPERIOR COURT DECISION AGAINST COLMA HOG MEN

Charles Frahm and Henry Bleacher, both of Colma, must pay the fines of $50 each assessed against them by Justice of the Peace W. J. Smith of South San Francisco or serve twenty-five days each in the county jail, according to a decision of Superior Judge George W. Buck Friday, in which writs of habeas corpus asked for by the defendants were denied.

Frahm and Bleacher were arrested last February and charged with violating county ordinance No. 266, in that they were keeping more than fifty hogs each within the unincorporated limits of the town of Colma. Following their conviction before Judge Smith, they immediately filed in the superior court through their attorney, Bradley V. Sargent of San Francisco, the petition for a writ of habeas corpus, contending that the county ordinance is unconstitutional. The case has been hanging fire ever since, Judge Buck upholding the legality of the ordinance and refusing the relief asked for.

Quite So.

VETERANS MAY APPLY FOR EDUCATIONAL TRAINING

The Veterans' Welfare Board of California announced this week that, beginning October 8th, application blanks for educational training for veterans of the late war, together with rules and regulations governing the California Veterans' Educational Institute, were being sent out to ex-service men. On and after October 20th the board will receive applications from such veterans as desire to take advantage of the educational opportunity afforded. A pamphlet accompanying the application blanks sets forth the rules under which requests for training will be considered.

ANNUAL SOCIAL GATHERING PLANNED BY LADIES' GUILD

The annual parish social gathering of Grace Church will be held Thursday evening, October 13th, under the auspices of the Ladies' Guild. There will be a good musical program, vocal and instrumental. The Rev. E. H. Molony will give a brief talk on "Friendliness." The program will be followed by an informal reception and welcome to newcomers.
To all newcomers to South San Francisco, without other local church affiliation, a friendly invitation is extended. A good program, a hearty welcome and a happy evening are assured old friends and new friends. "If then we choose our friends for what they are, not for what they have, and if we deserve so great a blessing then they will be always with us." The parish hall is behind the church, corner of Grand and Spruce avenues.
